

Good Day!

Hello Everyone!!

Well, the sun is shining and the weather is making many of us feel like being outside! Although some are still having fun indoors in their shops 😊

Thanks to Juanita for sending out the zoom information last night about our upcoming meeting this Thursday at 7pm where we will see Keith Mombourquette demonstrating "Using a homemade hollowing tool to make hollow forms". We will also have a short show & tell afterward, so please have your items ready at hand to show us.

Richard has been kind enough to send along a YouTube video for turners who want to simplify their tool sharpening..... Have a look:

Also, some of you may know that the WGO host a website from the UK – The Woodturners Workshop, by Brian Clifford. There are many items within this site that are helpful and one in particular that I like is this one:

I have one of these floppy polishing pads on an old grinder that I have. It works amazing for polishing up small wood items after some Osmo, and I have even polished a cutting board that had scuffs. Have a read through, we can talk about it on Thursday.

As Richard has done, let me know if there are other videos or websites you feel may be of interest to other woodturners, just email them to me!

Thanks, and see you Thursday at 7pm 😊

Happy Turning,

Colleen
